THE SPIRIT OF CENTRAL HIGH

Oh, Central High to you we lift our voices,
In ringing praise of our dear colors true,
We will ever boast for you our a'ma mater
All through life we'll cherish you.

When leaving these old halls of comrades true,
We can ne'er keep back a tear or brooding sigh,
Nor can we e'er forget the days we loved
Long live the spirit of Central High.

Chieftain LIFE

Foreword

The war is over, and we hear more about gala high school activities than about rationing, and battlefronts--the words most of us grew up with. Now, there is Life--a different kind of life, and it is abundant in Central's halls. We hope that in looking back over these pages of life at Central, you'll find happiness and companionship--also your picture, somewhere!

Miss Bonna Miller

Dedication

To the faculty sponsor of the Chieftain, whose untiring efforts and encouraging smiles have helped us with our many problems, we, the staff of 1948, gratefully dedicate this book.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1948:

May I congratulate you upon your accomplishments in the completion of your high school education. Never before have such accomplishments meant so much to young people. Youth who will have to compete with their own generation in times just ahead must travel a rough road if their training has not been taken seriously. Today there is no substitute for character, honesty and hard work. Dependability which includes the traits just mentioned is the biggest plank in the platform of anyone who gets ahead. In a democracy any person in the ranks has a chance to get to the top if he has the desire to work, understand, and lead. This is true only in a democracy like ours. It is very necessary that we all learn the ideals of democracy by heart, not for the sake of just knowing them but to the end that we may know what they mean, how they can be had, and how they can be improved. Our civilization depends for its advancement upon the supply of men and women whose skills are unquestioned. Requirements for hundreds of thousands of key positions in both industry and the professions are definite. For these positions mediocrity will not do. Advancements in any worthwhile field of endeavor are not made by shoddy work. Today "average" is not good enough.

You will realize as the days come and go the importance of the responsibilities that must necessarily rest upon your shoulders to help improve your community, your state, and your nation. Much depends upon the youth of today because life is ever growing more interesting and more complex. It is required in these days that you have more of the "know how" than any youth that have gone before you. May you prepare for and accept this challenge.

From atop the Empire State Building you can look across at the giant clock in the Metropolitan Tower. The minute-hand on this clock is seventeen feet long and weighs a ton. Each minute it jumps a foot! Watching it, you can see it jump. Each hour it jumps 60 feet—each day 1440 feet.

That minute-hand is a reminder that life is a matter of minute-jumping. How high we jump in a year, or a lifetime, simply is the grand total of our minute-jumping!

Each minute gives you an opportunity to jump toward your goal. Jump upward by using that minute to push your work, start an important letter, begin a friendship, learn something new, or renew your faith in God and your fellow-man. Let each minute find you a jump ahead on the path to your heart's desire.

Where you are today depends upon the minute-jumping you did during your yesterdays. Where you will be tomorrow depends upon the minute-jumping you do from now on! My advice to you, on this Commencement Day, is to use each minute to jump toward the bigger, broader, finer life that can be yours! May God bless each one of you on your journey through life.

SENIORS

Jim Arnold, Betty Bankston, Sarah Crain, Bill Allen, Bob Kuykendall, Camilla Duncan, Leon Noss.

The present Senior Class has been active since they were Sophomores--back in 1946, when as the youngest class in Central, they started making history by keeping their fingers in bond drives, Red Cross work, the carnival, student government and Curtis Drives.

As Juniors, we see them remaining interested in helping the school. The Junior planning committee drew up a new constitution for us, which was accepted by the vote of the student body. In the Curtis campaign, a Junior homeroom, Miss Walker's, was high homeroom.

Again as Seniors, they are still remaining energetic. In the Curtis campaign this year, a Senior homeroom, Miss Bonna Miller's, was high homeroom and the two high salesmen were Seniors.

Jewel Weatherbee won the D. A. R. Citizenship award and Jean Carr won the Tulsa University "Going to College" Quiz.

One cast of the Junior-Senior play was Seniors, but the highlight of the year was the Senior play, which was a great success.

The class officers are Jim Arnold, President; Betty Bankston, Vice-President; Sarah Crain, Secretary; Bill Allen, Treasurer; and Bob Kykendall, Camilla Duncan, and Leon Noss, Councilmen.

At last came the long awaited Senior week, including the Senior picnic, Senior Banquet and Prom, Baccalaureate Service, Class night, and finally Commencement.

PEGGIE MAE BARGER

Archbearer 47; Delphic 45-46; Student Council 45-47; Pep Squad 45-48; Curtis Sales Homeroom manager 46-47.

JUNIORS

Bob Alexander, Milton Propp, Patsy Alexander, Norma Jo Tye, Jeanne Musgraves, Tommy Yadon.

Last year this class was active in all school projects and was second in the March of Dimes Campaign.

The officers this year are Bob Alexander, President; Milton Propp, Vice-President; Patsy Alexander, Secretary; Norma Jo Tye, Treasurer; Jeanne Musgraves and Tommy Yadon, Councilmen. Under their able leadership the Junior class has participated in the Curtis Campaign, and Junior Red Cross Council. The bands and glee clubs have many active Junior members and they are active in Debate.

The Junior Class play, under the direction of Mr. J. C. Gray, was a great success, as was the Jr. cast of the Junior-Senior play, "Captain Applejack."

The Juniors are off to a flying start in Central and next year, as Seniors, they are expected to keep up the good work.

SOPHOMORES

Bob Noever, Jean Arnold, Patti Joyce Hill, Lloyd Sturm, Mary Blakemore.

This year the Sophomore class, Senior class of 1950 (they hope), has been most active in the field of drama.

The Dramatic class, directed by Miss B. V. White, put on a Christmas play, "The Queen's Christmas," for two school assemblies and again at open house. Set in the time of Queen Elizabeth, even the costumes were authentic.

Another dramatic venture, the class play, "A Little Honey," was presented and was greatly enjoyed by all who saw it.

Sophomores were also active in the Glee Club, Choral Club and both girls' and boys' bands.

In the Curtis drive Miss B. V. White's homeroom was second in the amount of money turned in.

All Sophomore Junior Red Cross Council members have been prominent on various committees and in all Red Cross activities.

Delphic

Delphic Literary Society had its beginning in 1918, when a group of Central High School girls gathered together to organize a debating club. Since then it has developed into a literary society whose members have been kept busy this year filling a basket for Thanksgiving, planning their annual banquet and parties, and working on a float for the Homecoming parade.

With Miss Margaret Wilson and Miss Elizabeth Bonnell as sponsors, the members of Delphic have cooperated in the needy work of our community.

The officers of 1947-48 are: President: Wanda Jean Russell; Vice-President: Roberta Bishop; Secretary: Norma Jo Tye; Treasurer: Rena Wells; and Program Chairman: Rosemary Starry.

Gunaike

Gunaike Literary Society for girls was organized by Miss Lucinda B. Neff in 1913, for the purpose of studying the achievements of famous women.

Their programs, held each Thursday morning in the Student Lounge, under the sponsorship of Miss Marjorie Sugg, have been both interesting and educational. The members have kept in mind their motto, "Deeds without words," as they made plans for a Christmas basket, Red Cross work, the annual banquet and parties.

The officers for 1947-48 are: President: Sally Bebb; Vice-President: Sarah Crain; Secretary: Madelon Weiss; Treasurer: Rosalie Peckenpaugh; and Program Chairmen: Mary Kline and Helen Bebb.

Scout

The Scout is a weekly school newspaper written through the combined efforts of two journalism classes, and printed in the school's own shop. The school is proud of the Scout for it has been published for the past 40 years under its policy of "Service and Truth." It was first published in 1908 as a monthly magazine, and in 1920, began, and has continued, as a weekly paper.

The Scout has been found to be always on the job, boosting all movements for the betterment of the school, and has brought about much cooperation not only between the teachers and pupils, but among the student body as a whole.

Not only have the journalism students issued a weekly paper, but this year they broadcasted a 15 minute radio program entitled "Central Highlights." This program was presented by members of the Scout staff every Friday at 4:45 over station KMUS.

Members of the Scout staff, with Miss Elizabeth Bonnell as their sponsor, are as follows:

EDITORIAL STAFF

Press Association

In connection with the Scout is the Press Association. Press Association is not a club, and does not have meetings or officers. It is an honorary society composed of students who write a certain amount of published literature. Only journalism students are eligible to become members. In order to become a member, the student must have: 600 lines of published material the first semester, and 900 lines published the second semester.

Those students who have attained the first semester goal are:

Student Council

The Student Council of Central High School is composed of a representative from each homeroom and the six councilmen elected by the student body. The Senior councilmen are Bob Kuykendall, Leon Noss, Camilla Duncan. The Junior councilmen are Tommy Yadon, Jeanne Musgraves and the Sophomore councilman Mary Alice Blakemore. Under the able leadership of the student body officers: President—Jim Hutson, Vice-president—Caroline Egan, Secretary—Helen Dodson, Treasurer—Bill Allen, the Student Council has been busy this year working on many worthwhile projects.

The president or vice-president has presided over each assembly while the Council has sold T shirts and beanies, supported the Curtis Sales, Community Chest, March of Dimes, Red Cross and other campaigns. The Student Council is sponsored by Mr. Wertz, the principal of Central High School.

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS

Junior Red Cross

Caroline Egan, President; Dayne Ramey, Vice-President; Barbara Burke, Secretary; Carolyn Cole, Treasurer.

The Central High School Junior Red Cross Council is composed of representatives from each homeroom. At their first meeting this fall, they elected the following officers; Caroline Egan, Chairman; Dane Ramey, Vice-Chairman; Barbara Burke, Secretary.

Central's chapter had a jay-walking campaign last summer. This winter they have been kept busy with such projcts as organizing a parlimentary law club led by Ernest Anthis, helping decorate the Veterans Hospital at Christmas, collecting clothes for seven needy children for Christmas, filling gift boxes for overseas and giving a St. Patricks' day party at the Veterans Hospital.

It is indeed a great honor to belong to the American Junior Red Cross. Central students have set a pace in this work and will continue to cooperate as long as there are needy people in the world.

Hi-Y

Sigma Hi-Y Club is composed of about twenty-five boys from the senior and junior classes of Central High. Charles Frye is the president. Other officers of the club are: Jack Hill, vice-president; Bill Rea, secretary; and Phil Smith, treasurer.

Hi-Y has grown into an international organization, conducted under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., and having something like 7,000 clubs in the United States, Hawaii, and Canada. The purpose of the Hi-Y is "to create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character."

Sigma Hi-Y has been meeting each week since the opening of school in September at the Y. M. C. A. or in the homes of the members. Each meeting is opened with a devotional period conducted by one of the members. Social and recreational activities, too, have their places in the Hi-Y program. During the year, the Hi-Y convention was held in Muskogee which included Hi-Y chapters from all over Oklahoma.

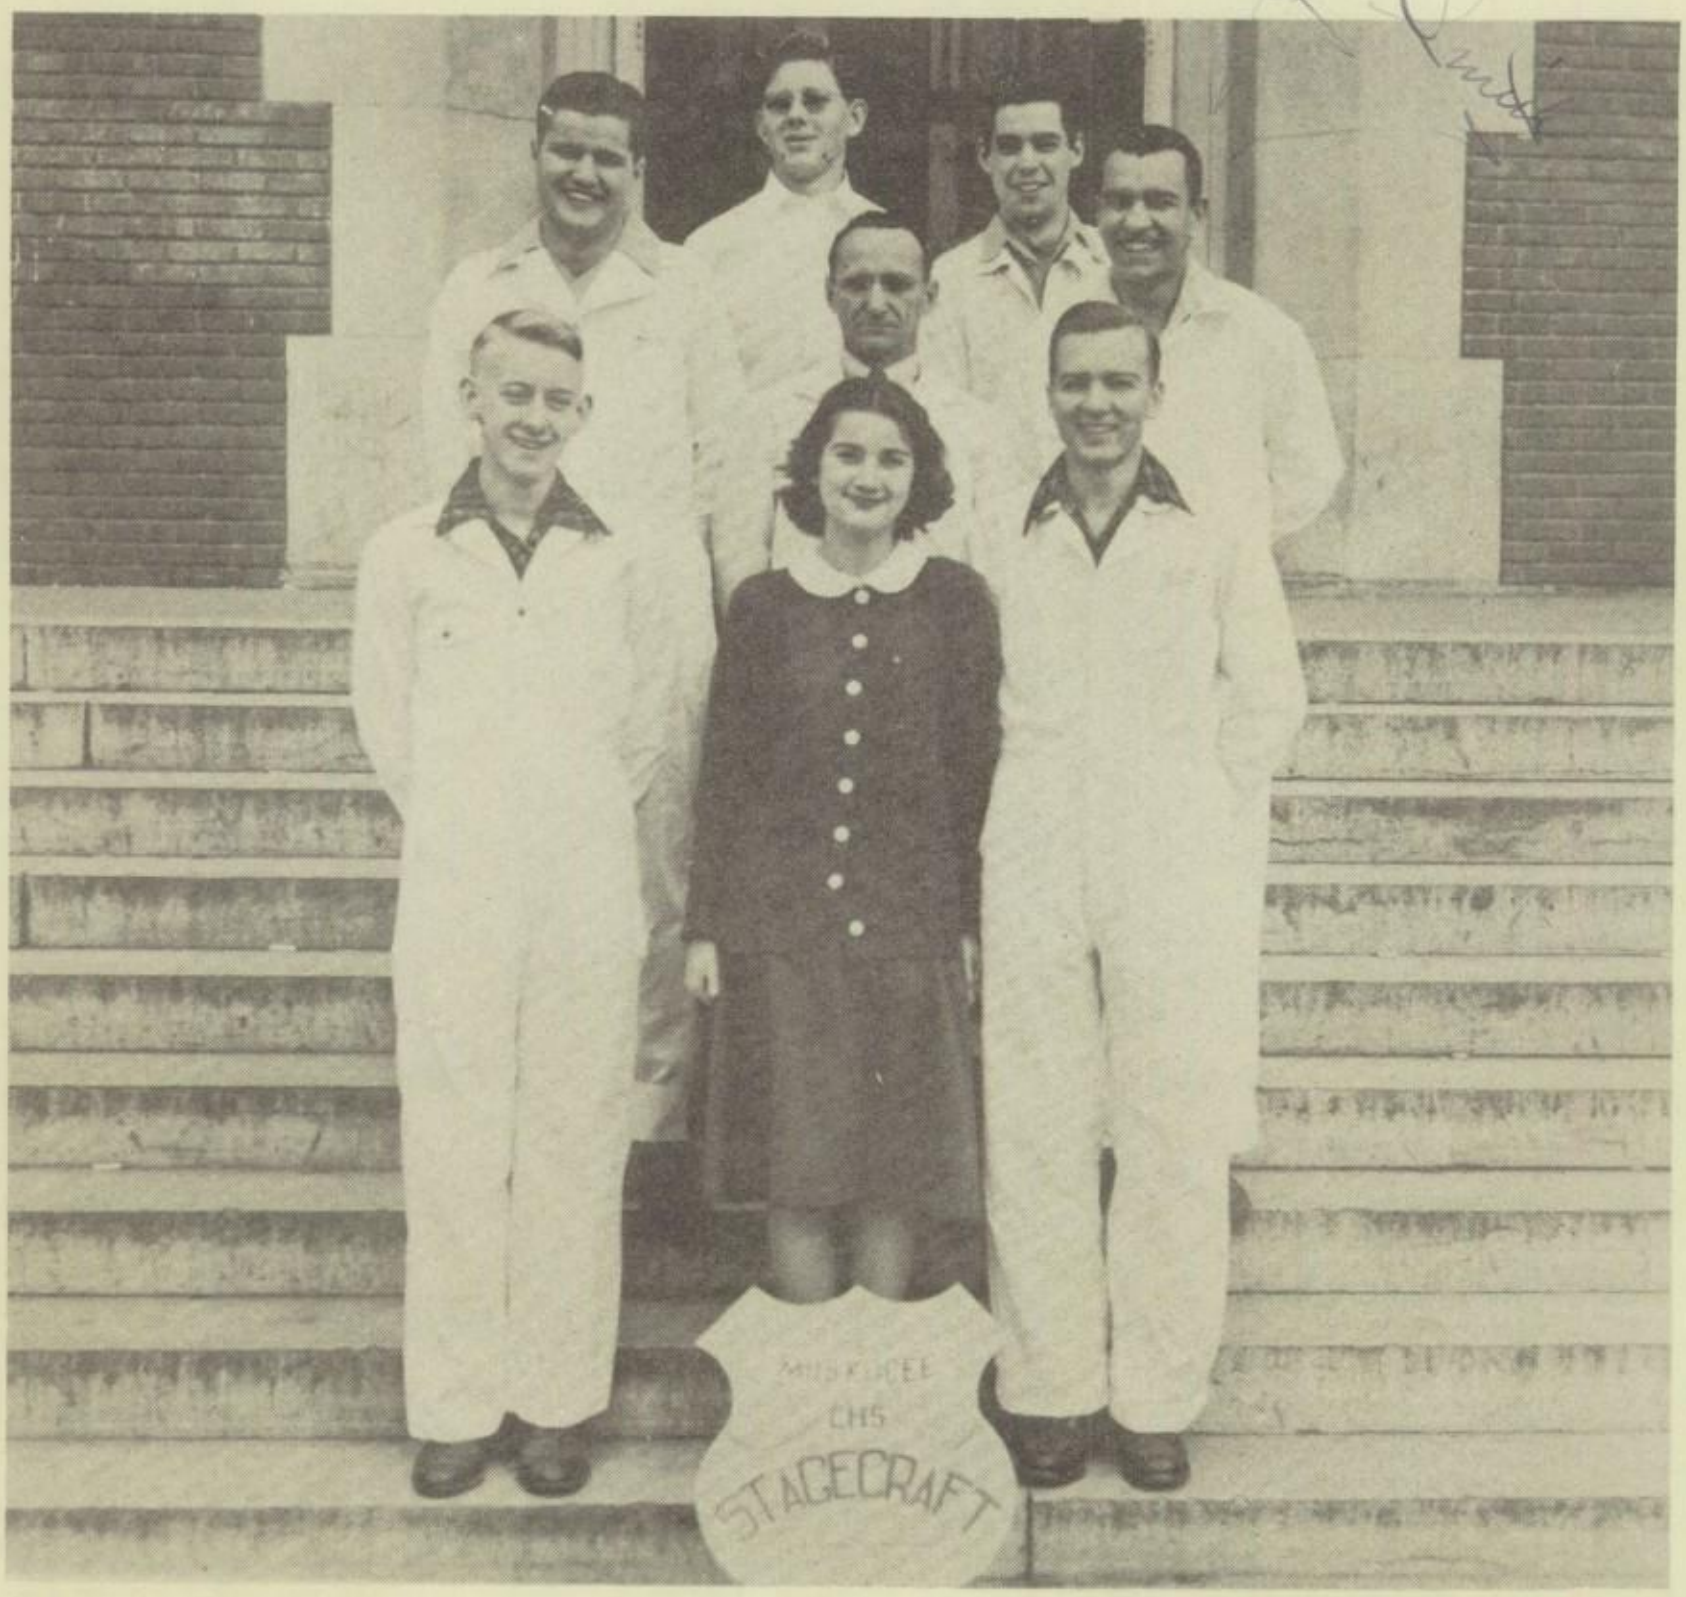
Stagecraft



ROW I—Bill Bingham, Barbara Burke, Robert Edge. ROW II—Eugene Lawson, Mr. Huckstep, Bob Smith, ROW III—Joe DeCamp, Errit Tinsley.

The stagecraft boys of Central High, under the supervision of Mr. Huckstep, have made possible our many fine assemblies presented during the year. Since the stagecraft was organized in 1944, it has been their goal to construct a satisfactory stage for each Sophomore, Junior and Senior play plus the other weekly assemblies. Among their many jobs, they change scenery and construct new, arrange and operate the lighting, set up the loud speaking system and arrange the chairs for assemblies presented in the gym. They also operate the scoreboard for football games. The typist for the organization is Barbara Burke.

Crack Squad

Nancy Marshall, Iris Meares, Camilla Duncan, Dolores Root, Julia Beckman, Madolon Weiss

The Crack Squad was organized in the school year of '45-'46 by Miss Margaret Wilson. It is the very backbone of all school spirit. Every member is present at all basketball and football games and sometimes the organization marches during the half.

Brutal Murder Stirs Muskogee

Court Rules That Motive For Killing Was Revenge; Statement Made In 1947

"I'll get even with that girl if it's the last thing I do."

The court has ruled that the motive behind the above statement is sufficient to send Hutson to the gallows, especially since he admits the killing. At times, Hutson, who seems to have no control over himself, stands near the door of his cell, gripping the bars with his chubby fingers, and cries at the top of his voice, "Yes! Yes! I killed her, and I'm glad. I told the world I'd get even, and I did."

When Hutson, President of the Warner garbage collectors union, was taken prisoner, the officials, Sheriff "Red" Merideth and constable Brent Cage, found plans sewed inside his garter that would set himself up as dictator of all the universe. It is said that these plans were made in fourth hour speech class while he was still in Central High in Muskogee, Oklahoma.

The "I'll get even" statement was uttered by Hutson in 1947, during an assembly in the school gym. Caroline Egan, now of the music department at Franklin school, had just finished pushing a lemon merangue pie in Jim's face as her reward for her team winning the Curtis Sales Campaign. Hutson immediately picked up the pie pan and struck the pose pictured here. Six persons who were seated in the bleachers, and heard Hutson utter the motive sentence, have been called

Local Politician Defeats E. Finley In Mayor Race

Attempted Fraud Averted By Alert Election Officials; All Tabulations Are In

In the final tabulation of votes yesterday Bill Allen, local politician, defeated Miss Ellen Finley, president of our women's clubs in the race for mayor. Campaign managers for Allen were Charles Gayman and Paul Thomson, for Finley they were Jeanne Whitmarsh and Katheryn Steele. Newspaper publicity for both sides was handled by Sharon Creel, associate editor of the Phoenix. Balloting at the homes of Miss Gertrude Fields, and Alice Eakins resulted in a majority of votes for Finley. At the homes of Rev. Clay Estes, Roy Griffith and Richard Long the majority was for Allen. Results were:

Finley 12,002
Allen 18,000

Charles Schneider and Bill Rea were taken into custody for attempting to stuff the ballot boxes, but were released by Police Chief Rex Terrill after questioning.

Ballet Company Organized By Two Famous Business Men

Paul Thomas, millionaire organgrinder, and Errett Tinsley, professional wrestler, have organized a ballet company. The president is Joe Whitten and members include Frances Wieland, prima ballerina, Virginia and Marian Welter, Mary Joe Heckenkemper, Darleen Keeler, Richard Gilliam, Chet Harris, Mac Richardson, and Dean Berry.

Famed Divorcee Welcomes Ex-Ambassador Husband Home From London, Eng. Office

Barbara Burke, America's famed divorcee, welcomed her fifth husband, ex-Ambassador Bob Kuykendall, home at the New York dock yesterday. Kuykendall arrived by the ocean liner S.S. James Miller. The S.S. James Miller was recently christened by the Shipbuilding magnate, Buddy Rogers. Rogers decided on the name when James Miller actually worked (worked, mind you) six hours last week.

Barbara's former husbands are all prominent men of today. Her first husband, Bruce Madden, is now married to the movie star, Patricia Pate, who is signed with Jimmy Fikes Studios. Her second husband, Johnny Owens, is now married to Marilyn Webb, a secretary at Brockway Manufacturing Company. Her third husband, Joe Hacker, who divorced her on the grounds of interference with his plans for a new Atomic Bomb, has gone underground. Barbara's fourth husband, Dick Hefton, is drowning in pink slippers of wine and dancing with fair ladies in the romantic surrounding of the Casbah.

Kuykendall has recently been recalled from England by Secretary of Foreign Relations, Charles Fry, and is expected to be appointed Head of the Atomic Commission.

as witnesses. These persons are Billy Gilliland, Emma Jo Redman, Patricia Bedgood, Jack Anthony, Virginia Harding, and Robert Hinds. Gilliland, Anthony, and Hinds are working for the city sanitary department. Redman, Bedgood, and Harding are maids at the Jim Hale Hotel, a hotel for women. Hale's wife, Roberta Bishop Hale, is actually in love with the composer, Phillip May, whose music is being played by such leading musicians as Gerald (trumpet) Eby, Jim (saxophone) Conrad, Eugene (saxophone) Smallwood, and Fred (trumpet) Shields. It's surprising what a murder case investigation will bring out.

Judge Eugene Lawson, the "gallows" judge, will preside over the trial. Lawyers Lawson Logan and Earnest Norfleet will be the defense for Hutson. The prosecution for Egan is up to Bryan Page and Byron Ellison. An impartial jury, consisting of Jay Cox, noted judge, as head juryman and eleven associates, Bob England, world heavyweight wrestling champion, Robert Edge, Central High School student, Laura Campbell, Society editor of the Times - Democrat, Bob Pettyjohn, Shorthand speed expert, Monnie Morrisett, housewife, Joan Hill, American History teacher at CHS, Jerry Fuqua, linotype operator for the Phoenix, Mary Ella Fuller, noted dramatic actress, Don Gardner, head of the Muskogee baseball club, Roland Cason, mechanic, and Helen Cox, beauty operator.

Hutson will be led to the courtroom by Bob (fearless) Tydings, acrobat with Barnum Bailey, and Ronald (hefty) Hatley, O. U. football coach.

A large group of celebrities are expected to be there. Among these will be Marlan (burp) Schmidt, head of the Latin department at Yale.

New Muskogee Bank Makes Bow To Investors Of City

The Last National Bank of Muskogee was organized last week with Joe Klutts, president, Betty Horner, vice-president and Tommy Poitevent, just plain vice. Others in the bank are Roberta Sturm, teller, Pat Piland, tattle teller, and Paul Wood, janitor.

Special guards in the bank are Bernard Cullen and Dick Smith from the local police force.

Among the investors seen the first day were Lela Belle Perdue, Evelyn Taylor and Wesley Cox, ("Two Roses and a Thorn") who are now appearing with Bob Price and his Singing Troubadors. Others were Jimmy Selman and William Dale Simmons, shoe manufacturers (A Heel with a Sole), Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Webb (the former La Faye Johnson) with their triplets and Jimmy Baker, owner of "The Cookie Shop" — pastries with that paste flavor.

Ex Mayor Bill Crowder pronounced the opening a great success.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Julia Beckman, crystal gazer supreme, will (with the aid of her assistant, Betty Bankston) summon any departed spirit for you. This is not a hoax. She guarantees the ghosts of Carol Dobson, run over while visiting in halls of Central, Lucy Bell Rodgers, who looked at a classmate and was scared to death, or Elizabeth Nagle, who died of a broken heart—no dates! Miss Beckman has studied in the orient and Podunk Junction. Among her clients are such great names as Betty Battenfield, owner of Ford Motor Co., William Doyle, Mayor of Paris, France, Margaret Ellis, WAC Commander, Frankie Lucas, playwright, and Pat Knapp, eminent chemist.

Booger - Woods Defeats Podunk

'Bushwhackers' Discolored In 77 To 7 Shamefest By 'Pink Parasols'

The Booger - Woods "Bushwhackers" were put to utter shame last night when the Podunk "Pink Parasols" defeated them 77 to 7 in the champion ship game of the Choska Bottom Conference. The "P i n k Parasols" accounted for their points through 11 touchdowns with the 11 extra points. Betty Bowden, speedy fullback for the "Pink Parasols" crossed the goal line after long flashing runs for 8 of the touchdowns. The other 3 touchdowns were scored by Nita Sue Green after intercepting passes thrown by Allison McCune of the "Bushwhackers". All 11 extra points were kicked by Margaret Flusche, otherwise known as "Automatic Toe" because s h e hasn't missed an extra point in 1,001 tries. The lineups for the "Bushwhackers" and "Pink Parasols" were as follows:

BUSHWHACKERS
Right End Leonard Edwards
Left Guard Jack Gregory
Right Guard James Jackson
Left Tackle Richard Branum
Right Tackle Paul McBurnett
Left Half Bill Pickett
Right Half Allison McCune
Fullback Richard Phillips
Quarterback Robert Scroggins

PINK PARASOLS
Left End Peggy Mae Barger
Right End Demaris Jobe
Left Guard Betty Lou Willis
Right Guard Alice Marie Walder
Left Tackle Betty Bussey
Right Tackle Ann Muscatell
Left Half Margaret Flusche
Right Half Nita Sue Green
Fullback Betty Bowden
Quarterback Erma Lou Gayman

The Bushwhackers' lone tally came in the last minute of the game when a pass thrown by Erma Lou Gayman, got lodged in Allison McCune's hip pocket as he was running away from the bullet pass. The pass was so hot he took off running and happened to cross his own goal line, thereby scoring the touchdown. The extra point was scored on a pass from Branum to Edwards. These professional ball teams are the best in the land, since all the members are formerly of Central High.

SCALPERS EDGE BATTLER'S IN PROFESSIONAL CLASH

The girls professional basketball league ended in a clash between the Skumogee "Scalpers" and the Choska Bottom "Battler's." The "Scalpers" won, 109 to 108.

Forward Vera Burris
Forward Pat Eller
Forward Carmelita Hicks
Guard Leona Lewis
Guard Halley Bender
Guard Mary Louise Webster

BATTLERS
Forward Marjorie Cox
Forward Mary Freeman
Forward Wanda Hill
Guard Bertha Rutherford
Guard Elizabeth Fewel
Guard Mary Jane Morris

The "Scalpers" victory came in the last 2 seconds, when Vera Burris shot a long shot which bounced off the head of Pat Eller, and finally into the basket for the winning two points.
